Orvis Partners,

Over the last few years, we've seen a lot of exciting and accelerated change in the industry, but one thing's been a constant: Your support.

As our front line of connection to our customers, we're lucky and grateful to have such exceptional, committed, and adaptable partners. You helped us make Helios™ the most successful rod launch in industry history, and you breathe local expertise into our products every day—for all of that and more, we thank you.

As we look to Spring '25, we're excited to share our lineup of apparel and gear with you. From exploring new fabrics that push the boundaries of performance to reviving old favorites with fresh updates, these products deliver innovation and excellence we're proud to share.

Here are few highlights we can't wait for you to see:

- o Superfine Rods
- o Ultralight Wading System
- o Clearwater Reels
- o Sun Defense apparel
- o Orvis streamside tools & accessories

Ultimately, every product we design is rooted in our love of the water and the field, as well as our commitment to protecting wild places for the next generation. For over 165 years, Orvis has been a conservation leader in the Outdoor industry. Most recently, you've seen us engaged in the fight for clean water in the Everglades and Bristol Bay, and we're proud to donate 5% of pre-tax profits to supporting conservation.

We look forward to making the most of Spring 2025, together. Thank you for your continued partnership.

Sincerely,
Brad Befus and the Orvis Team

THE FUTURE OF THE NATURAL WORLD IS IN OUR HANDS

At Orvis, passing our outdoor passions down from generation to generation is at the core of our business.

Learn more about our collective impact at orvis.com/impact

Without flourishing ecosystems, wilderness forever wild, and living rivers and oceans to sustain us, the future of our outdoor experiences that inspire and bring meaning to our lives are threatened.

That is why we are committed to leading the sustainable future of fly fishing, wingshooting, and the natural world through protecting and restoring habitats, creating sustainable products and ensuring the next generation finds inspiration in the adventure and wonder in nature.

It is a legacy that started with my grandfather, Leigh, in 1965 when he purchased the company and one my family and Orvis have proudly lived by for three generations.

It is a responsibility that we are grateful to share with so many of you.

Simon
